Diagram illustrating the thickness of a single layer of the lipid bilayer, labeled as 3.3 nm.

A horizontal number line with an arrow pointing to the right. A point is marked with a vertical tick and labeled '6' below it. A horizontal double-headed arrow is drawn below the number line, starting from the point at 6 and extending to the left. The length of this arrow is labeled '6' below it, indicating a distance of 6 units to the left of 6.
